ENTRY LEVEL HOUSING PROGRAM

Oxford House Entry Level Housing Program

When an individual applies for housing at Oxford House, an interview with a support worker is scheduled. The Support worker assesses whether a client would benefit from entry level housing during the interview.

Entry Level Housing guides residents into a more stable lifestyle and assists them to pursue education and/or enter the workforce.

The Entry Level houses are for new residents who are not yet employed, have been chronically homeless or institutionalized and who need assistance to help them move forward. Entry Level Oxford Houses provide incentive for individuals to motivate themselves for a better, more prosperous future and to move forward in all aspects of their lives.

Each house has a house lead (seasoned Oxford resident) who assists our support team in making sure the newcomer remains motivated and continues their progress with their goals.

“Living in an Oxford House home has taught me that I have responsibilities not only to myself, but to other people as well.”

“Oxford House has helped me to grow in my sobriety.”
